Over the course of his 30-year career in the motion picture and television industry, Brad Krevoy has produced, acquired, and distributed over 100 motion picture and television projects, generating more than $1 billion in worldwide revenue. His blockbuster comedy DUMB AND DUMBER, starring Jim Carey and Jeff Daniels, grossed over $200 million worldwide. The heart-warming true story TAKING CHANCE, starring Kevin Bacon, premiered at the Sundance Film Festival and was the most watched HBO original film in over five years at the time of its airing. TAKING CHANCE won a number of awards including an Emmy, Golden Globe, DGA, SAG, WGA and Humanitas Awards for acting, directing, writing and producing.

Brad Krevoy co-founded the Motion Picture Corporation of America (MPCA) and helped MPCA become the industry hit maker for moderately budgeted comedies that generated strong box office and critical acclaim, ranging from the comedy classic KINGPIN, starring Woody Harrelson and Bill Murray, to JUNGLE TO JUNGLE, starring Tim Allen. Due to its healthy EBITA, John Kluge’s Metromedia International Group acquired MPCA in 1996 to create a worldwide production and distribution organization for Orion Pictures, which had recently emerged from bankruptcy. Mr. Krevoy helped to build up Orion Pictures before the company was sold to Kirk Kerkorian’s MGM/UA in 1998. In 1999, Brad reacquired the MPCA name from MGM and restarted the company. Since that time, he has produced and acquired numerous motion picture and television projects. Prior to co-founding MPCA in 1987, Krevoy served as President of Roger Corman’s Concorde Pictures, which was one of the leading independent production and distribution companies.

Currently, Mr. Krevoy is producing for the Hallmark Channel the third season of their series WHEN CALLS THE HEART, as well as a number of MOW’s with the likes of Brooke Shields, Alison Sweeney, Candace Cameron Bure and Kimberly Williams Paisley. He has a number of other projects in active production and development, including a reboot of the classic Roger Moore television series THE SAINT, to film in the US, the UK, and Canada in January 2016; RESURRECTION, a remake of the enormously successful Japanese motion picture YOMIGAERI, written by Dana Stevens (CITY OF ANGELS), with John Wells (AUGUST: OSAGE COUNTY) directing, and slated for production in Spring 2016 for DreamWorks and the Walt Disney Company; a reboot of the martial arts classic BEST OF THE BEST, to be produced as a Chinese co-production with Chuck Russell (THE MASK, THE SCORPION KING) attached to direct; and Russell will also be directing the superhero feature FIREBRAND, based on a character created Stan Lee.

Mr. Krevoy remains active with several entertainment industry and charitable Boards of Directors, including IFTA, which runs the American Film Market and represents motion picture sales and distribution companies around the world, and the California State Summer School for the Arts (CSSSA). He is also a frequent guest speaker at film festivals and seminars worldwide. Mr. Krevoy is a graduate of Stanford University, a former fellow to the California State Assembly and a member of the State Bar of California, the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences, the Directors Guild of America, and the Producers Guild of America. Brad resides in Santa Monica with his wife, three daughters and two dogs.
